An essential accredited basic counselling afternoon workshop for educators and support staff

(A first for South African schools)

ATT: The principal

Today's children face more challenges than ever before. No matter what a child's socio-economic circumstances, they are often affected by academic pressure, family violence, abuse, bullying and social media issues. Your educators are expected to deal with many of these issues with very little formal counselling training. A caring teacher can transform the school experience, especially for learners who face enormous home difficulties. The basic ability to counsel, listen, guide and refer when necessary, can transform a learner's life forever.

The aim of this workshop is to equip educators with the above special skills and also provide the seasoned counsellor the opportunity to return to basics.

An educator with counselling and communication skills enhances the school's professionalism, affirms a learner's dignity and helps develop trusting long term relationships.
